

HUMAN ANGELS IN DISGUISE

Humans are very good at playing the role of forgetfulness. In this forgetfulness play, they seek spiritual awakening, when in reality, humans are spiritual giants, trying to deal or cope with human awakening.

Why do human beings play this pretense game? What motivates them to do so? Is there a larger purpose for this play?

The first answer that comes to mind is Karma. This is only partially true. Are there other purposes to our life streams?

What motivates us to come to this play of forgetfulness?

The answer is simple - GROWTH

Humans as a soul entity is always seeking growth. It is the core essence of our soul personality.

Humans have come to the earth to explore all the aspects of creation and this desire to know more is an inbuilt trait within us.

Humans are encoded with the Three Principle core energies.

Exploration

Continuity

Sustainability

Out of these three energies, the Energy of Exploration is the strongest as it motivates us to seek more of ourselves.

All great inventions which serve the world has come from this core energy. Explore means - to seek the unknown and discover.

Behind every motive of human endeavor is this energy. To seek means to grow.

So through human awakening, they are trying to build a bridge to their Soul Self through the exploration of themselves.

That is why it has been said - Humans are trying to find themselves through all the things they do.

Humans also know at their core level about continuity. They know that for them to play this game of pretense, the world and life must go on. So, they try to preserve it, for preservation gives them a sense of security.

If you preserve, then only, there can be life.

The third energy is of sustainability. To continue life and to support continuity, humans knows that they must also be able to sustain.

And humans are willing to go to any lengths to achieve this.

Now this energy of Continuity and Sustainability has turned people in many instances to being greedy and manipulative.

Now these three energies are supported by other energies - of Hope and Perseverance.

Take a moment to pause and examine these core energies within you. What drives you?

What motivates you to explore more of your life's experiences.

What is your idea of sustainability?

What is your core thought about
sustainability?

These three core energies rule most of human life. Understanding these can help you move into a space of WHY I DO THINGS.

WHYs are one of the golden keys to your liberation.
