

NOBLE METALS

What are noble metals? Are there noble metals on the earth plane? What are its qualities. How can it support humanity?

Earth has been embedded with many precious metals and this was for a purpose. Metals and minerals hold vast amounts of wisdom and history and can be programmed to carry out certain tasks. Crystals can also do the same to some degree but not to the extent of noble metals.

Most of the mineral kingdoms came from outer space to seed the earth. Three metals were invited to come to the earth to hold the vibratory pattern to sustain the earth so that it functions in a way which supports human life on the earth plane.

The three metals are - Gold, Platinum and Palladium.

These three metals are connected to the brain structures in human beings and they support to regulate the thought process in human beings.

These three noble metals hold higher frequency within them and contain divine consciousness.

One of the reasons, many beings from outer space came to the earth was to mine these three metals as in this entire solar system, there is no other place like earth, and which has these precious metals.

Seek the divinity within these metals and they will assist in creating more balance and in the manifestation of many of your desires. These metals support to enhance your physical health as they can calibrate and create higher frequency energy fields.

Now what are some of the other benefits of using these noble metals? Gold is a good conductor of electricity. Your body draws forth electrical currents from the sun and the vegetables and fruits you eat. Each mineral kingdom, vegetable, plant and fruit kingdoms also draw forth electrical currents from the Sun.

But each draws forth in a ununiform way. So that means, the vibration of each kingdom is different and within each kingdom the vibrations are different for each species of plants, vegetables and fruits.

Once you are aware of this, communicate before you cook or eat the fruits and ask it to transfer its electrical currents into you. The food you eat is for your third dimensional body, but the electrical currents in the foods you eat is for your Higher Vibration.

Among all the kingdoms which draws forth electrical currents, from the Sun, Gold draws forth the highest from the Sun. Hence the vibration of Gold is the highest.

Wearing gold as a jewelry without the awareness of what it is for, will not produce any results. It will just be a piece of jewelry.

EXERCISE

Hold Gold in the middle of your palm and breath into your palm. You will start to feel vibrations or warmth in your palms and then ask the Gold to open its inherent divine consciousness and to merge with you.

Gold represents the Love of God in material form.

You can also place gold in a glass of water for 10 hours and then drink that water and you will shoot up your vibration. This water will also cleanse and purify the water inside of you and open up the memory of your divinity, contained within your cells.

Gold has traditionally been used in healing modalities in many ancient cultures. Gold can be programmed to carry higher vibrations.

Look into all the ways that Gold can support you.

The second noble metal is Platinum.

Platinum is connected to the Angelic kingdom. You can request the consciousness from the platinum essence to support you to find your individual soul path - to find your own truth and walk in your own truth. There are certain musical notes embedded into platinum and these notes are for healing various illness.

Platinum draws forth its energy mainly from the Moon and has a feminine touch to it.

Palladium is the metals of the Gods. It emits a brilliant silver light and contains the evolutionary story of this planet and its role in this solar system. The first step in tapping into the secrets of these precious metals is acknowledging its divinity and its aliveness.

Make a consciousness choice to connect with them and enjoy the benefits of this sacred union.
