

RETURN

Return to your Heart

Return to your Soul

Return to your Sacredness

Return to your Naturalness

Return to your Joy

Return to your Peace

Return to your Love

Return to your Infiniteness

What does return mean, in the sacred journey of life? It means - remembrance. It means Re-remembering with the sacred family of God. It means joining with the many facets of you, once again.

When you are born, you bring only a tiny fraction of your fullness/knowingness and the balance part of your fullness is kept in the secret chambers you call the Cave of Creation.

Contained within this cave is the Soul Crystal of each and every human being.

Your soul crystal is a repository of all the vibrations of your Full Soul Essence.

Your Soul Crystal is connected to all the realms of the Universe and you can open the secret chambers of your soul crystal in your quiet time, using sound frequency.

Your soul crystal has a spiraling light around it, which is soft blue in colour and all the soul crystals are protected and under the guidance of the Angelic kingdom.

Your soul crystal carries the original intent of the Creator for this planet's evolution.

It means, by tapping into your soul crystal, you will be able to reacquaint with your soul essence and discover your soul purpose.

There are several sounds you can use to connect with your soul crystal.

1. Inhaaarii

2. Merrimmm

3. Sanriooooo

While making the sound tones, bring your right palm's thumb and ring finger touching each other and then gently touching your sternum area of your heart.

You will begin to feel warmth or energy in your heart space and when you feel it, ask your body to open the Golden Gate within you and this is the road to the cave of creation.

Practice going to the caves and connecting with your soul crystal on a daily basis.

This is the process of Coming Home - to yourself - to your sacred divinity.
