

POVERTY

We live in a world of plenty, yet we are poor. We act poor, believe we are poor, our outlook on life is fear and lack. How did this come about? Is it a thought imprint we carry from lifetime after lifetime, or something else?

What causes us to feel poor? Our upbringing, our cultural understanding, our religious beliefs, and so on.

Poor is a state of consciousness and this is rooted deeply in our subconscious. This poor consciousness manifests in many ways - not just in material abundance, but also in everything we do and create.

We can be poor in consciousness in sharing our life - our smile, our laughter, our time, our love, our material things, our knowledge, our wisdom etc.,

Poverty exhibits itself in many ways. One of the greatest poverty humans exhibit is in their thinking and perceptions.

Coffee with Master Buddha
Channeled Irhaan Rae Chandran
3rd Aug 2020

Humans are taught from very early on that, they are small and insignificant beings, come here to toil and sacrifice and there is a higher power who controls us, and this is a world of reward and punishment.

We carry these thought imprints, life time after life times and it becomes a part of our genetic imprint and our DNA and this being one of the strongest imprint, it gets embedded right underneath our skin and the strongest imprint underneath our skin, that is what we will draw forth and experience as part of our everyday reality.

YOUR BELIEFS ABOUT YOU, CREATES YOUR DAY TO DAY REALITY.

Most human beings believe that, poverty is a byproduct of past Karma. This is only partially true.

One of the primary purposes of your earthly life is to change all the false beliefs you carry about yourself - in all areas of your life - from material abundance to your soul growth.

Coffee with Master Buddha
Channeled Irhaan Rae Chandran
3rd Aug 2020

You have come here to master the material world as well as your spiritual world. In reality, both these worlds are the same.

What thoughts and beliefs, are you willing to let go? And what new thought imprints are you going to input in?

One of the basic laws of the Universe is - when you share what you have, the very act of sharing is sending out a message to the Universe that you are abundant and full and are sharing from the fullness of your being.

You might say - I do not have anything to share -

Can you share your smile?

Can you share your kindness by sharing a kind word?

Can you share your care with a gentle touch?

Can you share your love by a loving look or a loving action?

Can you use your voice to gently uplift another?

Find ways to share your life - and this you can do in many ways.

EXERCISE

This is the first principle through which you can start creating a new thought imprint on the physical level.

On the emotional level and feeling level - share the love of your being with Mother Earth and all her creation. When you share love, you are expressing appreciation and gratitude and these two qualities are primary energies for transformation.

On the mental level - disconnect from the thought patterns by cutting the chords of limited beliefs about poverty from all realities and all past life streams.

Imagine erasing these false beliefs from your Akash and then re-writing the new beliefs you have about yourself. (Do it daily for a minimum of three months)

On the spiritual level, release the energy of sacrifice and crucifixion. This is a very strong energy and the belief is that to create abundance, one needs to sacrifice and struggle and nothing comes easily.

EXERCISE

This is not only in material things, but also on our spiritual practice.

Also break from the promises you have made to God in previous life streams to remain poor, so that you can focus on God.

Start cultivating new words and thoughts about abundance.

*I am successful in all things I do.
Everything leads to my success.
Success is my birth right and I manifest this through my words, thoughts and actions.*

Life on the earth plane was not supposed to be a place of dread and suffering. But through collective thinking of lack, you have created this as your reality here on the earth plane.

Change your thoughts and beliefs and change your life.