

*In the vastness of this Universe, A tiny beam of light appeared
It exploded into tiny particles and spread far and wide creating Magnificent patterns and rhythms
From these came the thought patterns of Creations filled with Divine Intentions
And Earth was created to host this beautiful manifestations*

*Out came the dragons and the sacred fire which was inlaid on the earth plane
Then came the Omega, Crystalline and the Magnetic grids and other light beings appeared Who disguised themselves as our animal and plant and tree brothers,
They prepared the ground to welcome Human Angels and out we came in vastness for we heard the call*

Our hearts jumped in joy and exuberance, for we were about to test our skills of creation through our being

We joyously sang the Song of Creation in our heart and out we marched into the vast playground we call Earth

Now it is time to go home where we truly belong and end this sojourn

For it has been too long and we may forget our way back if we do not hurry

We collectively decided to write the next chapter of our Soul Journey and that is Coming Home.
