

The Moon beams on me at night

In my delusion I believe that Moon is only active at night

But now I am awake, and I know the Moon is always active

There is No Night and Day

And in the same way, we drift from delirium to wake-fullness

only to Fall Asleep once again

I rub my eyes deeply and keep it open, knowing that

The light that I Am and the Shadow that I Am

Is only a reflection of my imagination

And I am neither Light nor its Opposite

For I am the Formless One

The Eternal ever changing one for I Am Thee,

I Am God, I Am Goddess, I Am
